To Whom It May Concern:

Mario was completely honest about what he could achieve. His prices were I believe fair considering the amount of work required, and the end result was nothing less than flawless.

He spent a considerable amount of time on just small areas of the car to make sure these did not let down the overall finish he was trying to achieve.

I would highly recommend Mario in the future to anyone looking for the best possible result, and will definitely use him for any future work I have.

Yours Sincerely,

Allen Roberts
